The Snow Day Surprise

When Sam woke up, everything outside his window was white. The cars were buried, the trees sparkled, and the road had disappeared under thick snow. His phone buzzed with a message: School Closed. Sam cheered.

After breakfast, Sam pulled on his coat and boots and went outside. The snow crunched beneath his feet. He built a snowman with a crooked smile and used a carrot from the kitchen for its nose. Soon, his fingers were numb, but he didn't care.

Later, Sam sat by the window with hot chocolate, watching snowflakes drift slowly from the sky. It had been an unexpected day, but one he would always remember.
